Corporate Social Responsibility

One of the largest problems facing the world today is the growing demand for clean, safe, water. I2O's core business is to facilitate the reduction of leakage and to increase the provision of water, a vital resource for life. Our environmental credentials are fundamental to our success and that of our customers. We believe in applying our technology and expertise to social and environmental issues. As a manufacturer of leak detection and network management technology, i2O is committed to developing products that will reduce water leakage.

We are a socially responsible company, contributing to the wider communities in which we live, work and do business. As part of our CSR, i2O proudly supports Water Aid, a charity dedicated to bringing plentiful clean water to the 750 million people around the world that do not have access to safe water. We believe in delivering business results in a responsible way – continuously improving the energy efficiency of our manufacturing facility is one way in which we deliver on our commitment to being a responsible and sustainable. We also encourage and provide facilities for recycling within our office and manufacturing facilities.

We are also committed to ethical trade and sourcing fairly traded goods. I2O supports equal opportunity in the workplace. Equal opportunity is about good employment practices and efficient use of our most valuable asset, our employees. We comply with all relevant laws, regulations and codes of conduct to create an environment free from discrimination, where our staff are encouraged to reach their full potential.
